ORLANDO,

eponymous hero(ine) of a fabulous episode, a historic giant fresco, a biography, a lifetime, that encompasses – that outlasts 400 years, one life only?! For sure – ‘cause what means time, its duration and length?

Except of the “exceeding incongruity between the clock time and the time sensed” we don’t know anything about it.

is born as a dreamy boy, briefly a lover to the elderly queen Elizabeth I who decides not to grow old. After her death he loves and ekes out a living through the age until the Great Frost when England’s court revels the carnival on ice, falls in intense but brief love with Sasha, a princess in the entourage of the Russian embassy, is betrayed and feels deceived, suffers all torments of love and finally is appointed by King Charles II as British ambassador to Constantinople where he – morphs into a equally beautiful woman of the same name; the now Lady Orlando covertly escapes Constantinople in the company of a Gypsy clan, adopting their way of life until its essential conflict with her upbringing leads her back to England to perambulate the following centuries realizing the magnitude of becoming a woman, falling in love again and marrying Shelmerdine, a sea captain – unchanged changed, skeptical and sentimental in equal measure, thoughtful and enjoying, partly as gentlewoman of the parlor, partly solitary, searching the loneliness.

Virginia Woolf’s profound musing about the exchangeability of ages and identities, a vision of life that neither tolerates fixed time nor restricted space, not even the unchangeable identity, as well and particularly the sexual determined.

Speaking the words of her son Nigel Nicolson, the novel “Orlando”, published in 1928 is “the longest and most charming love-letter in literature”, dedicated to her lover Vita Sackville-West.

Orlando is filmed in 1992 by Sally Potter (Director & Writer).
with Tilda Swinton (Orlando), Billy Zane (Shelmerdine), Lothaire Bluteau (Khan), Quentin Crisp (Queen Elisabeth I), Heathcote Williams (Nick Green), Charlotte Valandrey (Sasha), Jimmy Somerville (Angel).

DINNER CAME BEFORE SHE HAD UNTIED IT, AND THEN IT WAS THE CAPTAIN HIMSELF WHO HELPED HER TO A SLICE OF CORNED BEEF. "A LITTLE OF THE FAT, MA'AM?" HE ASKED. "LET ME CUT YOU JUST THE TINIEST LITTLE SLICE..." AT THOSE WORDS A DELICIOUS TREMOR RAN THROUGH HER FRAME. ...WHICH IS THE GREATER ECSTASY? THE MAN'S OR THE WOMAN'S? AND ARE THEY NOT PERHAPS THE SAME?..."FOR NOTHING", SHE THOUGHT, "IS MORE HEAVENLY THAN TO RESIST AND TO YIELD; TO YIELD AND TO RESIST"

...SHE (ELISABETH) SAW IN THE MIRROR,...A BOY – COULD IT BE ORLANDO? – KISSING A GIRL... IT WAS ORLANDO'S FAULT PERHAPS; YET, AFTER ALL, ARE WE TO BLAME ORLANDO? THE AGE WAS THE ELIZABETHAN; THEIR MORALS WERE NOT OURS; NOR THEIR POETS, NOR THEIR CLIMATE; NOR THEIR VEGETABLES EVEN. EVERYTHING WAS DIFFERENT.
